Persuasive Speech Rubric Give this form to your instructor before you give your speech

Name: Topic:		Time:
-
OUTLINE	C 7-7.5	B 8-8.5	A 9-10	Notes
Outline format (C) an attempt is made to follow the format provided (B) with correct	7-7.5	8-8.5	3-10 enumeration, connections between ideas are logical, and evidence directly supports the ideas. (A) has a clear separation of points, written in full sentences, has a consistent pattern of indentation, includes written transitions, previews, summaries, with little or no errors References (C) uses appropriate number of sources with a few APA mistakes. (B) uses logical sources from identifiable authors with minor APA mistakes (A) uses credible sources from qualified authors to provide insightful perspective into the issue(s) with no errors
				/1
Introduction	C 14-15.5	B 16-17.5	A 18-20
Attention getter (C) is present, (B) uses a meaningful narrative, quotation, statistic, or	11 15.5	10 17.5	10 20 question that is related to the topic, and (A) is creative, original, and highly motivating Background and audience relevance (C) some background information about the topic is provided, (B) the significance of the topic is firmly established, and (A) topic is clearly connected to this specific audience
Speaker credibility (C) speaker provides a reason for choosing the topic, (B) explains why they care about the topic, and (A) explains why they have compelling experience or expertise in this area
Thesis (C) is identifiable (B) is clear, complete, single declarative sentence, and (A) uses carefully chosen language that sets the tone and direction for the speech Preview (C) tells the audience what main points will be discussed, (B) uses signposts, is concise, and flows into the body, and (A) uses creative, carefully worded phrasing
				/2
Вору	C 24.22	В	A
Main Points (C) are identifiable and support the thesis, (B) are well developed using a variety	21-23	24-26	27-30 of support materials and (A) are supported by distinct, clearly worded and supported sub-points Evidence and Support (C) a minimum of four sources have been used for evidence and sources have been orally identified (B) material furthers the argument and a link between the evidence and the claims has been provided, and (A) evidence demonstrates a thorough and rich understanding of the topic Organization (C) has an identifiable organizational pattern, (B) includes sub points with a logical pattern, and (A) uses concise, parallel, and creative phrasing Language (C) is appropriate for the audience and occasion, (B) is clear, accurate, and succinct, and (A) is powerful, vivid, imaginative, and creative Transitions (C) speaker indicates when they are moving to each new main point, (B) and has an effective summary, signpost, and preview in each transition, and (A) include pauses, gestures, or movement to reinforce/emphasize the transition Sources (C) the author (source, if author unavailable) and date of information have been provided, (B) the sources are placed just before the information being cited, and are relevant to the topic, and (A) sources are reputable, fully cited, and include evidence of source credibility (5)		ļ
Toulmin (C) uses evidence to support claims, (B) with credibility and warrants, and (A) qualifiers, rebuttals, and counterarguments  Persuasive Appeals (C) uses one, (B) two, and (A) all three effectively	+
. S. S. S. S. P. Petro, (a) as a site, (b) tito, and (n) an ance encourery
				/3

CONCLUSION	С	В	A	Notes
Signals conclusion (C) transition to the conclusion is indicated (B) using a clear signpost (A)	7-7.5	8-8.5	9-10
that is reinforced through creative language or delivery Reviews purpose/thesis and main points (C) the main points have been briefly noted (B) are not just a restatement of the opening preview or thesis, and (A) synthesize the information from the body of the speech in a creative way
Call to Action
Memorable close (C) 1 last sentence is provided after review that closes speech, (B) uses a rhetorical device related to the topic, that signals the end of the speech, and (A) a link has been provided to the attention getter and/or closing thought in a creative way
been provided to the attention getter and/or closing thought in a creative way /10
DELIVERY	С	В	Α
Fue Contact (C) maintained with audience for at least part of the speech (D) was numbered.	10.5-11.5	12-13	13.5-15
Eye Contact (C) maintained with audience for at least part of the speech, (B) was purposeful with a comfortable transition between notes and audience, and (A) was used to gauge feedback from most of the audience most of the time Verbal Delivery (C) speaker can be heard and understood throughout speech, and (B) vocal		                                     	+ variety is used and keeps audience attention, and (A) conveys enthusiasm for the topic, engages audience, and commands the attention of the room throughout speech Pronunciation, Articulation, Volume, Pitch, Rhythm, Rate, Tone, Vocalized Pauses
Nonverbal Delivery (C) attempts to use gestures, movement, and facial expressions a few				1 times but with a few distracting movements (avoiding, swaying, rocking, repetitive motions, etc.), (B) uses gestures, movement, and facial expressions that at times are directed to the audience and complement the message, (A) uses intentional and effective gestures, movement, and facial expressions to enhance the speech, enhance credibility, and maintain audience attention
				/15
OVERALL IMPRESSION	С	В	А
OVERALL IMPRESSION	C 10.5-11.5	B 12-13	A 13.5-15
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A)	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting new information to the audience's body of knowledge	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting new information to the audience's body of knowledge	_			/15
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting new information to the audience's body of knowledge	_			/15
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting new information to the audience's body of knowledge	_			/15
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting new information to the audience's body of knowledge	_
Topic (C) is appropriate for this assignment and context, (B) is clearly related to the student's personal experiences or provides relevant information to the audience, and (A) made a genuine contribution to the knowledge of the speaker and the audience  Adapted to Audience (C) speech is appropriate for and considerate toward all members of the audience, (B) is clearly adapted for this specific audience and context, and (A) incorporates specific characteristics of the audience throughout the presentation  Preparation and Practice (C) speaker reads heavily from notecards or manuscript throughout the speech, (B) did not rely heavily on note cards and was clearly ready to present the speech, and (A) displayed poise and confidence indicative of a well-practiced speech (perhaps including evidence of a speech lab visit)  Time Limits (C) speech was delivered within the time limits, (B) an appropriate balance of time was spent on each idea, and (A) was fully developed within the time limits  Quality and relevance of aids (C) correct # of aids were used, (B) were well-integrated, clearly seen, and linked to the presentation, and (A) had explanatory power (used to help audience understand difficult material)  Was persuasive (C) yes, (B) information was easy to understand, and (A) added interesting new information to the audience's body of knowledge	_		13.5-15	